

The Axia Non-Functional Horizontal Training Headwall is designed to give the look and feel of a patient room minus the cost of an actual medical gas simulation. This non-functional training headwall has the ability to be wired for electrical purposes and have a simple installation.

Features

- Electrical capabilities (optional).
- Easily moved as your lab space changes.
- Easy installation.
- Horizontal rail is 10" x 52" x 4" (HxWxD)

Available Options

- Overbed light with a pull cord switch.
- Integrated non-functional nurse call system.
- Integrated non-functional code blue.
- Vacuum regulator.
- Vacuum canister and holder.

